

Choose to be Extraordinary: Discover the PharmD that Puts You First

As a PharmD student at High Point University's Fred Wilson School of Pharmacy, you'll be part of a student-centered program that provides in-depth training, aligns with your values, opens new doors, and focuses on your well-being as a person and a professional.

Read on to discover how HPU will set you up to practice pharmacy at the highest level while helping you become the person you aspire to be.

HPU opportunities go beyond the classroom.

We'll ensure you enter the field equipped with meaningful, hands-on experience. Our evidence-based methods will promote real-world wisdom to boost your career.

As you earn your PharmD at HPU, you will have access to a variety of opportunities, including:

Specialty certificate training: You'll have the option to pursue specialty certificate training in selected disease states, such as asthma, diabetes, and heart disease.

Practice-ready experiential learning: Put your classroom knowledge to practice in our Standardized Client Program, where you'll work with community actors standing in as patients, physicians, nurses, caregivers, and more.

Patient care experience plus community support: You'll get the opportunity to be paired with a member of a local retirement community to form a relationship that is transformational not just transactional. You'll make a positive impact, hone your skills, and gain a deeper appreciation for your field and the people you serve.

Cutting-edge training in state-of-the-art facilities: Our School of Pharmacy includes a $100 million facility with the latest world-class technology, such as realistic simulated healthcare environments, clinical laboratories, and analytical instruments.

We place values and personal development at the core of learning.

To prepare well-rounded pharmacists, we encourage students to determine their own personal value system. Our curriculum will help you build a framework of compassion from which you will launch your career.

As The Premier Life Skills University, HPU emphasizes the development of character and kindness, helping you become the best version of yourself. You will build a variety of valuable skills, such as excellence in communication, critical thinking, problem-solving, cultural competence, and collaboration. The growth and development that is fostered by an HPU education will make you a valuable leader and community member — no matter where your passions lead you.
